

Greater Richmond Convention Center

The sheer size and location of the Greater Richmond Convention Center make it one of the most desirable places in the mid-Atlantic to hold a meeting or convention.

The architecture of the building includes striking towers and angular lines.

Where Virginia Meets the World

The 650,000-square-foot Greater Richmond Convention Center's multiple entrances and flexible space make it an ideal location for conventions, business meetings, tradeshows, sporting events, banquets and galas.

Boasting nearly 180,000 square feet of contiguous exhibit space, the exhibit hall can be divided into four sections. Exquisitely appointed, the ballroom features 30,550 square feet of space. Additional features include a VIP suite, green room and dressing rooms, a built-in sound system and flexible lighting with dimming capabilities.

The facility's breakout rooms provide intimate meeting spaces.

The Greater Richmond Convention Center also features the Wachovia Business Center, a full-service facility serving printing, copying and shipping needs. Nearby the Cyber Café provides complimentary Internet access via six freestanding kiosks and a lounge area.

Also located in the building is the Richmond Region Visitor Center and Gift Shop. Should your attendees need additional information about the Richmond Region, travel counselors are happy to oblige with maps, directions, brochures and guides. For those looking to take home a piece of the Richmond Region, the gift shop provides souvenirs of all types—one-stop-shopping.
